GERMANY DEFIES THE UNITED STATES

WILSON SEES TROUBLE AHEAD WITH AT LEAST FOUR GREAT NATIONS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—International affairs are again causing President Wilson grave concern.

Germany is reported to be intensely irritated over the demand for the recall of Captain Boyed and von Papen.

Austria holds a grievance against the United States because of the charge that the former's consular representatives have been plotting against American missionaries there.

It is feared that serious friction with England and France will develop, owing to opposition to their naval policies by members of congress. The administration will endeavor to hold within bounds any debate in congress over the situation, but it is feared that this will be hard to do in the house, where advocates of retaliation are likely to come serious embarrasment.

Senator Hoke Smith, of Georgia, has introduced a resolution in the senate directing the committee on foreign affairs to inquire into the legality of the Allied Blockade. At the senator's request, the resolution will lie on the table until Wednesday.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—It is reported here that Germany has refused to recall Captain Boyed, the Imperial German naval attaché at Washington, and von Papen, unless the Washington government shows why the men should be recalled.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Germany's refusal to recall Captain Boyed and von Papen unless it is shown that they violated the laws of the United States is without precedent. Confidential advisers indicate that the feeling in Germany is most bitter.

The German government, it is understood, makes the charge that most of the evidence against Boyed and von Papen was manufactured by British agents. If the United States refuses to give the evidence asked for, American naval and military attaches at Berlin will be given their passports. Officials refuse to discuss the case.

CONGRESS CONVENES IN 64TH SESSION AT NOON; BIG PROBLEMS FACED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—National politics, international problems of great moment, and a threatened revenue crisis combine to make the first session of the sixty-fourth congress, which convened today, the most important national legislative gathering of a decade.

A tangled mass of international difficulties and policies that threaten serious complications unless definitely handled must be cleared up. The way of American neutrality in the world-war must be made straight. A depleted treasury and rapidly fading revenues must be made to yield the funds for the military preparedness program of the administration. And out of all this, before the holiday days of 1932 blaze their way across the land, there must be shaped the men and issues that will decide the struggle next November for control of the federal government.

When Clark Baker, in the absence of Vice President Marshall, who was detained in Indianapolis by the illness of Mrs. Marshall, and Speaker Champ Clark dropped their gavel in the House and senate today, they opened a political and legislative free-for-all struggle that will wrangle its dearest and noisiest way through winter, spring and summer to the election of 1932. The Democratic administration began its first fight to make clear the record upon which it will go before the people at its first appearance in power in twenty years. A vigorous and powerful Republican minority initiated its struggle to regain the "seat of the mighty" lost in the disastrous 1912 campaign.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The atmosphere of world strife settled over congress today within five minutes after convening. A flood of resolutions seeking to establish peace, prepare the United States for war, and to handle the problems growing out of the European conflict, have already been introduced.

SUBMARINE ATTACKS AN AMERICAN VESSEL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Official confirmation of the attack made on American steamer by an unidentified submarine reached the state department today from Minister Drogopis at Athens. The Greek government notified him of its receipt of a wireless message stating that the vessel was being fired upon. A Greek destroyer was immediately dispatched to the position given. The name of the ship subject to attack is still unknown.

MEMORIAL SERVICE OF ELKS IMPRESSES GREAT AUDIENCE

ELOQUENT ORATIONS BY HON. E.
NOBLE CALHOUN, OF ST. AUGUSTINE,
AND REV. WM. J. DREW, OF THIS CITY.

The annual memorial services of Daytona Lodge, No. 1141, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, held Sunday evening in the New Daytona theatre, attracted as usual a great crowd of interested citizens and visitors from Daytona, Daytona Beach, Seabreeze and other nearby towns, and even New Smyrna and DeLand. The doors were opened at 7:00 o'clock and very shortly thereafter every seat in the theatre was filled, with the exception of those reserved for the members of the Elk lodge. People continued for some time to crowd into the building until all available standing room was taken and, as was the case the preceding year, scores of people were obliged to turn in disappointment from the door.

At 8:00 o'clock the officers and members of the Elks' lodge marched from the Elks' home to the theatre and entering by the main door and center aisle took their places, the officers on the stage and the members in seats reserved for them in the front of the theatre. There were over 100 Elks in line and many more were present.

The stage was very attractively arranged and tastefully decorated with flowers and plants, with the national colors heightening the effect. A large American flag was suspended over the center of the stage, a fold caught up with a bow of purple ribbon. The lodge altar occupied the front center of the stage, and, as customary in the order of the Elks, displayed also the Stars and Stripes. The officers of the lodge were seated in a semi-circle, facing the altar and audience. Exalted Ruler Geo. F. Crouch at center with the speakers of the evening, Honorable E. Noble Calhoun and Rev. Wm. J. Drew, on either hand. At the rear of the stage was stationed Saracina's Royal Italian band.

The Elks' memorial service is an annual event held on the first Sunday in December by all lodges of the order and in connection with the ritualistic exercises it is customary to arrange an interesting musical program. The presence of the Saracina band in its first appearance for the season through the courtesy of Commodore C. G. Burgoyne, who is a member of the Daytona lodge of Elks, formed an attractive feature of the program.

Following the overture, "King Midas," by the ever-popular Crystal orchestra, came the opening ceremonies of the Elks' lodge with the impressive tolling of eleven strokes of the clock and the explanation of its mystic meaning to all Elks, coupled with the calling of the roll of those members of the lodge who had passed into the Great Beyond.

A selection by the band was followed by a vocal solo, "Fear Ye Not, O Israel," by W. J. McDonald, accompanied on the piano by Matthew P. Cornwall.

Then came the address by Rev. Wm. J. Drew, pastor of the Congregational church, who was introduced by the exalted ruler. Mr. Drew, who is an easy and fluent speaker, made a very pleasing address, calling attention to the purpose of the service and the strong brotherly sentiment that evidently existed among the Elks. He expressed the belief that while the service was a ceremony it was not a perfunctory one, but an expression of real feeling by those participating. He spoke of the world as God's workshop for the making of brotherly men, with institutions like the Elks' order as instruments to that end, and quoted frequently selections of poetry illustrating his theme.

Mr. Drew's address was followed by a violin solo, "Cavatina," by A. E. Donnelly, with piano accompaniment by David Sholtz, and another selection by the band, and then the exalted ruler introduced Hon. E. Noble Calhoun, of St. Augustine, who took part in the memorial services of two years ago, and is regarded as one of the greatest orators in the state of Florida. Mr. Calhoun said that the interest manifested in the services as shown by the large attendance was an evidence of their depth and meaning. In an eloquent eulogy, interspersed with apt quotations in both prose and verse, he paid high tribute to the memory of the departed brethren, concluding his panegyric with the suggestion that the memorial services held deep meaning also for the living and that all present should go forth determined to strive to make their lives better, nobler and more productive of good for their fellow men.

A selection by the band was followed by the closing exercises of the lodge; a selection, "Sextette from Lucia," by the Crystal orchestra, and a selection by the Wee-Wee quartet, a popular male quartet from New Smyrna.

The benediction was pronounced by Chaplain Edward Archibald, of the Elks' lodge, and the program was concluded with a march, "Goodfellowship," by the Crystal orchestra.

The program was an excellent one throughout, and the large audience, estimated at nearly 1,000 people, openly showed its appreciation of every number.

Uncalled for Balances.

Nearly every bank carries uncalled for balances. These inactive accounts may sleep for years from various causes. A man may die suddenly and leave no record of his bank balance. Every business man has had some experience in this matter. A law requiring banks to publish in some newspaper every five years a list of their inactive accounts would be just and equitable.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

This Odor Is Safety-First Device.

An ingenious arrangement to safeguard a person from drinking the contents of the wrong bottle has been invented. The arrangement is placed in the neck of the bottle and connected with the stopper, which contains a substance that gives off a pungent odor when the cork is removed. Not only does it warn the person holding the bottle but sends its pungent warning all over the house. Should a child tamper with a poison bottle, for instance, members of the family would know it the instant the cork was removed and could rush to the child, probably to prevent serious illness or death.

Beauty of the Dove.

The mourning dove received its given name from the mournful sound of its call notes. Its sad-voiced coo, coo, coo, suggests moaning and, next to the awful, storm-beaten wail of the screech owl, it is, under certain conditions, the most doleful sound uttered by an American bird. I knew one sensitive woman who was so affected by the daily mourning of a neighboring dove that she begged a sportsman to frighten it away. Another peculiar fact about this bird is the strange musical note that is sounded by the vibration of its wings. As the bird springs from the ground in flight, or wings its way overhead, the pulsations of its wings give forth a ringing, metallic sound, like the twanging of a tight wire. This dove loves country roads, more than any other bird, and to those who love beautiful things, its exquisitely molded form and immaculate plumage is always a pleasing touch of nature. One might as well try to describe in words the colors in a fire opal as those of this bird.

WHY consider going out of town to do your Christmas shopping when there is nothing in the line of Christmas novelties that you cannot buy from the local merchant?

It is inexplicable why some people think they must go out of town to shop during the holiday season. There are myriads of reasons why you should do your Christmas shopping in your home town. Here are some powerful ones:

In town you know with whom you are dealing.

If you are not suited you can make a ready exchange.

You will save time, car fare and shoe leather.

And you can buy just as cheaply, if not cheaper.

If you did your Christmas shopping out of town in former years don't make another mistake this year.

FRENCH TRENCHES READY FOR WINTER

Horror of Cold Weather at Front Is Lessened.

TROOPS ARE WELL PREPARED

Dugouts Have Brick Bottoms and Are Well Drained—No More Knee Deep Ice Water—Paris Has Good Coal Supply—German Generals Suggest Christmas Gifts For Soldiers.

Signs are plentiful that winter is close upon the troops in the north of France. The nights are cold, and the characteristic winter night mist from the marshes is in the air.

It is evident that there is to be another winter campaign, robbed, however, of much of the horror of last year's ordeal in boggy trenches and along impassable roads. In northern France, at least, winter will find the rival armies well prepared to receive it. The wet mud, the ice cold water, knee deep in the communication trenches, the ooze and discomfort of the dugouts, will be the exception rather than the rule this year. The shelters, even in the advance trenches, will generally be fairly sizable, thanks to the plentiful use of concrete and tar and the skillful employment of drainage.

Moreover, the armies will be properly clad and amply fed. The British soldiers will again don their sheepskins, supplemented by ample supplies of warm caps, socks and heavy boots of rather better type than last year's.

Brick Floors in Trenches.
Many of the trenches now have brick floors, and practically all are drained and protected against landslide by timbers.

The great problem of the winter will be the billeting of all the new divisions which have come out since last year. In the villages well behind the firing lines every outbuilding and old barn has been requisitioned, cleaned, repaired and made into shelter against the wind and cold. But nearer the firing lines most of the buildings have been smashed into ruins, and although they were usable for housing purposes during the summer, they are plainly impossible now. The problem is being dealt with to some extent by the building of portable houses and huts, but the armies grow too fast for the carpenters.

The work of the aeroplane observers gets more difficult as winter approaches. The fogs of the late autumn cling to the ground in little patches well into the day, while the evening mists make observations difficult soon after mid-afternoon.

Coal Prices High in Paris.
Paris is in no danger of shivering this winter, though it will have to pay rather dearly for its warmth. M. Marcel Sembat, minister of public works, assures the public that there will be plenty of coal available and supports his views with a few conclusive statistics.

France consumed 60,000,000 tons of coal a year before the war; 10,000,000 tons of it came from Great Britain and 10,000,000 from Belgium and Germany. The latter markets are closed to her now, but her consumption has decreased from 20,000,000 to 10,000,000 tons by reason of the German occupation of the industrial regions of the north and east. Her coal production has diminished in the same ratio, being 20,000,000, as against 40,000,000 tons, so she has to depend on Great Britain and the United States for the 20,000,000 tons that she lacks. The receipts at French ports, which were less than a million tons a month a year ago, rose to 1,800,000 tons in August. Statistics of subsequent receipts are incomplete, but it is thought that they exceed 2,000,000 tons per month, sufficient to meet current needs and accumulate a surplus.

Coal prices have shown no response to the increased receipts. The best qualities are firm at $20 a ton delivered at domicile, while inferior grades and industrial coal bring $15 a ton. The city gas company, profiting from these high prices, has supplanted coal with gas in a great many families, furnishing the heaters free of rental.

German Christmas Demands.

Fur muffs for soldiers are the latest recommendation of the versatile General von Buelow of the German army. The recommendation is made in reply to an inquiry addressed to all the German army commanders asking for suggestions as to the most appropriate Christmas gifts for soldiers at the front. Von Buelow replied that muffs would be very useful on the eastern fronts, to be used by men on duty in the trenches. Old and worn-out muffs, he adds, would be just as useful as brand new ones. "There must be a cord attached," he explains, "so that we can hang the muffs round our necks."

Mackensen, from Serbia, asks for cocoa, chocolate, fat and butter. Gallwitz replies only: "We don't want any wool. We are richly provided with that." Admiral von Koester urges against the sending of spirits or, in fact, any alcoholic beverages. In fact, no spirits are asked for by any troops except the guards regiments, which want rum. The crown prince suggests light red wine and smoking materials. Other commanders mention slippers, warm socks, handkerchiefs, candles, old carpets, toothbrushes, writing materials and suspenders.

105 FRENCH MARINES ELUDE FOES 37 DAYS.

Break Through German Line in 315 Mile Retreat From Belgrade.

A story of an extraordinary march of a small body of French marines, who have arrived at Monastir from Belgrade after covering more than 300 miles afoot and passing through the Austrian lines, is told by the correspondent of the London Daily Mail at Saloniki. He says:

"One hundred and five French sailors from Craiova, near Belgrade, have arrived at Monastir after covering more than 315 miles afoot and passing through the enemy's lines. They went by a roundabout way, via Prizrend and Dibra, and, overcome with the extraordinary difficulties, five were left on the way, two of them dead and three wounded.

"Commander Picot and seven other officers accompanied the detachment, which did excellent work at Belgrade. They destroyed a bridge and seriously damaged two of the six Austrian monitors at Semlin. Their battery of three guns was discovered by enemy aeroplanes and for three days, supported by English and Russian batteries, was under a terrible fire.

"Two large shells dropped almost every second for eighteen hours with awful precision. The battery was so well protected by shields and earthworks that it was able to reply, shell for shell, until its supply of ammunition was exhausted and two of its guns were destroyed. By a miracle the detachment had only two men seriously wounded and only one killed.

"When the ammunition ran out they destroyed the guns and on the evening of Oct. 8 began their retreat. Using their rifles and bayonets, they rushed the German line and got through. Much suffering was endured during the retreat, which occupied thirty-seven days in a mountainous country, the men carrying only their rifles and cartridges."

The correspondent adds that a British detachment was expected at Monastir several days ago, but no definite news of it can be obtained.

BURIED; SAVED BY DOG.

Pet Burrows Into Pile and Finds Young Master.

Buried in a sand pile at Flushing, N. Y., Harold, eight-year-old son of Mrs. Adele Schultz, was saved from death, according to the boy's mother, by their pet dog Sport, a fox terrier.

"Harold, with his fourteen-year-old brother Herbert and his five-year-old sister and two companions, went for a walk," said Mrs. Schultz. "The children were romping when Herbert missed Harold."

"After a search of a few minutes Harold's hat was found on a sand pile. The children were attracted to the sand pile by the barking of the dog, which burrowed his way into the sand until one of Harold's feet appeared.

"The children pulled him out of the sand unconscious and carried him home. The boy is all right, but he had a very narrow escape. After he recovered consciousness he explained that the sand caved in upon him."

A TRAITOR TO HIS TRIBE.

Leads 500 Brothers and Sisters to Death Every Day of the Year.

"Betraying his brothers" is the business of Old Dick, veteran lead sheep at the Cleveland Provision company's slaughter house. Every day he leads 500 of his unsuspecting tribe to a bloody death.

He slips through a trapdoor while the rest of the flock run down a narrow chamber, where butchers wait with long, sharp knives to slit their throats.

That has been Dick's job for eight years, and as a reward he will be allowed to die a natural death. He chews tobacco and likes cooked food. When rebuked for following his ignominious calling Richard scornfully comments as follows: "B-a-a-h!"

Saw His Twenty-second Wife.

BLAZE CALLS OUT FIRE DEPARTMENT

FIRE ON BROAD BEACH ON MAIN
DAYTONA BEACH STREET IS
SPRINKLED PUT OUT BY NEW 20
FOOT LADDER.

Between two and three o'clock this morning the loud fire alarm was sounded by a small fire in one of the office buildings at the corner of Federal and Seabreeze avenues.

The fire was extinguished by a last tier of bucket and hose work.

The building is owned by W. E. D. Graves, of this city. The first floor is occupied by the Seabreeze restaurant and the second story by B. H. Graves and family. This fire started from a cigarette which was thrown out of the first on the second floor, and had the restaurant building been occupied.

The fire department was immediately alerted and soon had the blaze under control.

The loss of money due to the building was not estimated, but the building was completely damaged by water.

It is the first fire in the department this season. The new department house began, and the water was not used.

BLAZE CALLS OUT FIRE DEPARTMENT

FIRE ON ROSS BUILDING ON MAIN
DAYTONA BEACH STREET IS QUICKLY PUT OUT BY NEW DE-PARTMENT.

Between two and three o'clock Monday morning the local fire department was called out to a small blaze in the old postoffice building at the corner of Halifax and Seabreeze avenues. The fire was extinguished in a half-hour of hard and fast work.

The building is owned by Dr. J. B. Ross, of Daytona. The first floor is occupied by the Riverside meat market and the second story by S. Herbert and family. The fire started from an unknown cause under one corner of the roof on the second floor, and had made considerable headway before discovered.

The fire department was immediately summoned and soon had the blaze under control.

The loss of about $300 on the building was partly covered by insurance. The furnishings of the building were considerably damaged by water.

This fire is the first of any importance that members of the new department have fought, and the number of half-clad onlookers who witnessed the occurrence say that the building would have burned to the ground very rapidly had it not been for the firemen's quick work.

SEABREEZE STREET WORK STEADILY PROGRESSING

During the week shell has been laid on Ocean boulevard, from Atlantic avenue to Palmetto street, a distance of three blocks.

C. L. Harvey has finished grading Ocean avenue from Ora street to Butler boulevard, which has been completed west to Atlantic avenue. As soon as the Ocean boulevard work is done this new extension of the beachside street will be shelled and rolled.

The continual hauling of street material is very detrimental to the roads over which the shell is brought, and some of these streets will soon need re-paving.

SILVER BEACH APPROACH OPENED AGAIN YESTERDAY

The ocean approach to Silver Beach avenue and the south bridge was opened for traffic Sunday morning after being closed for a few days to allow the new coating of marl to settle thoroughly.

Where Railroad Ties Come From.

The place from which more railroad ties are shipped than from any other in the United States is Reeds Springs, Mo., in the Ozarks. Tie hewers are paid from 12 to 16 cents a tie, according to the hardness of the wood.

Red Meat and Appendicitis.
Man is the only animal that has ever been known to suffer from appendicitis. He is the only animal who makes eating a pleasure, who gormandizes and overfills his intestinal tract with highly nitrogenous, proteid food (meats), and who eats more than can be digested—the undigested portions proceeding to poisonous decomposition. Red meat in the intestinal tract is a poison. There is some connection between gluttony and appendicitis; but there is a stronger connection between red meat and appendicitis.

The Sunday school of the Seabreeze Avenue Methodist church established a record for attendance Sunday morning, 223 being present. This is probably the largest Sunday school on either side of the river.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Rawdon, of Ashland, Ohio, have rented one of the apartments in the W. R. Phillips house by the central bridge on Seabreeze avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Rawdon will make Daytona Beach their home for the entire season.

Mrs. M. N. Bogart and baby, who came over on Thanksgiving day to spend a week with Mrs. Bogart's mother, Mrs. Jennie Strother, and family, at the Seabreeze avenue home of the Strothers, returned to Orlando last Friday afternoon.

W. Walker and family, of Freelandville, Ind., are expected to arrive this week, to spend the winter here. Mr. Walker wrote on December 1 that it "is snowing in Indiana today," and for the Gazette-News to be sent to his Daytona Beach address.

Palmetto avenue, near the corner of Duke street was obstructed for a few hours Saturday afternoon by the collapsing of one of the wheels of a wagon. The vehicle, owned by A. S. Randall, was partly loaded with sand and was removed late in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Arnold, of Peckville, Pa., arrived Sunday morning and are staying at the Breakers until the completion and furnishing of their new home on Orange avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Arnold were winter visitors last year and purchased their property before returning north in the spring.

Protect the Birds.
The bird life of the country is important to its welfare. It is well that knowledge of this fact is being scattered broadcast, as many are unacquainted with the great work of conservation which the birds perform in the natural order in saving great natural wealth. Their indiscriminate slaughter is one of the saddest instances of wanton waste which the ignorance of men, in depleting their natural resources, can furnish. For this reason the present crusade in favor of bird protection ought to engage general and thoughtful attention.

PENINSULA PEOPLE GLAD TO HAVE BAND

BEACH RESIDENTS WISH BURGOYNE TO KNOW OF THEIR GREAT APPRECIATION OF HIS LIBERALITY.

Daytona people are not the only ones who are rejoicing over the return of Saracina's band, so generously brought about by Commodore C. G. Burgoyne.

A large majority of Peninsula residents take a good deal of pleasure in listening to Saracina's music-makers when in Daytona. Later, in the spring, when the gentle breezes blow from the southwest, the strains of music can be plainly heard along the east bank of the river. On such nights as these, the owners of river-front residences sit on their spacious verandas and numbers of the other inhabitants cluster along the bridges and docks, all enjoying the band's selections.

These lovers of music wish to express their thanks to C. G. Burgoyne for his exceeding generosity.

The young men's class of the Sunday school of the Seabreeze Avenue Methodist church will hold their regular monthly business meeting tonight in the boys' room in the new church basement. The class organization will discuss the play which the young men are planning to present in conjunction with the young ladies' class.

After the meeting, the young ladies' class will entertain the young men for the evening.

BAPTIST CHURCH WINDOWS WILL ARRIVE THIS WEEK

Contractor E. E. Johnson, of Daytona Beach, expects the beautiful leaded glass windows for the newly erected Seabreeze Baptist church to arrive some day in the coming week. With the putting in of these windows, the church will be practically completed except for the furnishings, which are on the way.

The "SILENT SMITH"

—Model 8 shows what should now be expected of a typewriter.

Ball Bearing; Long Wearing

The success of the L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriters has been due to the fact that the wants of the user have dictated its construction. The user has decided in favor of certain improvements now incorporated in Model 8. Among them are:

Silence of Operation—The most silent running efficient typewriter ever placed on the market. Absolute silence has been very nearly attained.

Decimal Tabulator—A help in billing and tabulating. There is no extra charge for this convenience.

Variable Line Spacer—Enables the operator to start on a given line and space from point of starting; also to write on ruled lines whose spacing varies from typewriter spacing. A great help in card work.

Faster Ribbon Feed—Insures new place of impact for each typeface.

Choice of Carriage Return—Upon special order the new left hand carriage return will be furnished in place of the right hand return.

All the important features of previous models have been retained—ball bearing carriage, typebars and capital shift, back spacer, key-controlled ribbon, removable platen, protected type, flexible paper feed and automatic ribbon reverse.

Write for New Catalog of Model 8. It will explain why the L. C. Smith & Bros. Typewriter is a type for the future.

WILL PETITION CITY COUNCIL TO ADVERT'

HOTEL AND REAL ESTATE MEN TO ASK FOR APPROPRIATION BY COUNCIL OF FUNDS FOR "FLORIDA FIRST" CAMPAIGN.

The hotel men and real estate men of the city will present a petition to the city council at the meeting of that body next Monday asking that $500 be appropriated from the $4,000 advertising fund provided for in the last budget, for the purpose of placing Daytona among the other live cities of the state in the $50,000 advertising campaign inaugurated by the Thomas advertising service and styled the "Florida First" commission. M. Leidersdorf has been in charge of the circulation of the petition among the hotel men and real estate men.

This is a great plan for the general advertising of Florida weekly for two months in approximately 100 leading papers of the North. A rate of ten cents per capita is charged for cities of 2,000 or more population which would make the cost $500 to Daytona on a population of 5,000. The advertising as proposed contains select illustrations of Florida scenery and attractions, accompanied and supplemented by attractively worded descriptions of the beauties and advantages of the state in general, no one section or locality being shown any preference, and all that will be used from the cities and towns joining in the movement will be the name and address of the principal trade body so that anyone in the North being interested in Florida may get into communication with any one of the cities which they may prefer. The commission is composed of George A. McClellan, chairman, Jacksonville; Vance W. Helen, secretary, Miami; W. P. Franklin, treasurer, Fort Myers; Frank W. Lord, commissioner, Quincy; B. L. Hammer, commissioner, Tampa.

POPE HOLDS CONSISTORY TO ELECT SIX CARDINALS

Rome, Dec. 6.—The consistory at which six new cardinals will be elected begins at the vatican today. It is the occasion of the gathering here of notable prelates coming from both sides of the great world struggle. All sorts of rumors are naturally flying about, mostly having to do with informal peace parleys under the auspices of Benedict XV, who is recognized as an accomplished diplomatist.

On the surface the delegates from the warring nations preserve a cold, impassive front. Cardinal Gasquet represents Great Britain; Cardinal Billot and Cardinal Amette, France; Cardinal von Hartmann, an intimate of the kaiser, Germany; while Cardinal Mercier, who is said by sympathizers with the quadruple entente to have been persecuted by the Teutons, is absent.

Every day is summer in Daytona.

WILL BUILD SECOND CONCRETE BRIDGE

TOWN OF HOLLY HILL AWARDS CONTRACT FOR CONCRETE BRIDGE OVER CANAL ON RIDGEWOOD AVENUE.

An examination of the wooden bridge over the canal on Ridgewood avenue in the town of Holly Hill last week disclosed the fact that it was unsafe for traffic and it was at once closed until necessary repairs could be made or a new bridge built.

At a special meeting of the city council held Saturday evening a contract was awarded the Chas. K. Barnhart Contracting company, of this city, for the construction of a substantial reinforced concrete structure with a width of 30 feet. Work was to begin upon the new bridge today and it was expected to have it completed in about ten days or two weeks' time.

This will be the second concrete bridge constructed over the canal by the town within two years, a substantial one 20 feet in width having been built on Daytona avenue about 18 months ago by A. Vande Vord of Daytona Beach. This will give the town two durable and absolutely safe bridges in place of wooden structures which in both cases spanned deep cuts and the construction of the proposed brick highway will solve the question of the remaining wooden bridge over the same canal on the river front road which is a county thoroughfare.

PEOPLES OF THE WORLD.

The Aryan or White Race and Its Numerous Divisions.

The division of the earth's population according to race is as follows: Indo-Germans or Aryan race (white), occupying Europe, America, Persia, India and Australia, about 775,000,000; Mongolian or Turanian (yellow and brown), living in Asia, about 682,000,000; Semitic (white), living in Asia, Arabia, etc., about 65,000,000; negro and Bantu (black), found in Africa, about 150,000,000; Malay and Polynesian (brown), inhabiting Australasia, about 85,000,000; American (Indian red), found in North and South America, number, including halfbreeds, about 25,000,000.

The Slavs are one of the chief divisions of the Aryan race. They are divided, as a race, into two leading families, the eastern and western Slavs. The eastern Slavs comprise the Russians (Great Russians, Little Russians and White Russians); Bulgarians, Serbo-Croats, including the Servians and Montenegrins, and Slovenes in Carinthia, Carniola and part of Syria. The western Slav family is divided into the Poles, in Russia, Austria and Prussia, and the Kassubers; the Czechs, or Bohemians, and the Moravians, with the Slovaks in Hungary, and the Lusatian Wends or Saks in Saxony and Prussia. The theory is that their original home was in Volhynia and White Russia.

VICTIMS OF NIAGARA.

Water Birds Go to Sleep and Are Swept Over the Falls.

Swimming too near the brink of the falls, hundreds of water birds, even swans, ducks and geese, go over Niagara falls to their death each year in the migratory season. So many birds pay the penalty for their daring each year that bird lovers on both the American and Canadian sides of the falls are considering steps to lessen the annual toll of the feathered life.

Since a majority of the victims are claimed in the night, the theory is advanced that the birds go to sleep while swimming and don't wake up until the rapids have carried them over the danger line. Usually they are killed outright in the fall. Sometimes they are only stunned and are picked out of the river below the falls and sold for food.

In 1912, so Ernest Harold Baynes, the naturalist, relates, 140 whistling swans went over Horseshoe falls. Boys and men fished the birds out, knocked them on the head and sold them.

"James Savage of Buffalo," Mr. Baynes says, "with some friends once saved a flock of swans by chasing them in a power boat and making them fly away just before nightfall. It was a daring thing for these men to do, for if by any chance the engine had become disabled nothing could have prevented their going over the falls."—Philadelphia North American.

African Marriage System.

You cannot fancy how deeply complicated the African marriage system is nor how many ramifications there may be to a woman palaver. One day Mr. Hemminger was sitting in a hut talking with two members of his congregation, wives of one husband. He was talking to them about their sins, which were of an obvious character. The younger woman had been accused of stealing food. Then he turned to the elder, Wawa, she of the ten children, five of them dead and five of them cruel.

"Wawa," said he, "why cannot you live at peace with this wife of your husband? Why are you always quarreling?" (They are notorious scoundrels.) "Well," said Wawa, "she was bought with one of my children, and I cannot forget it."—Jean Kenyon MacKenzie in Atlantic.

Turks' Names For Greeks.

The Turks have definite names for the Greeks who inhabit Ottoman territory and for those who are their own masters. The latter are Yunan and their country Yunanistan—names derived from "Ionia"—while the Greeks and Turks are Rum. By origin this is simply "Romans" and is an inheritance from the Byzantine days, when the inhabitants of Constantinople, the New Rome, were called Romaloi, while the provincials were known as Helladikoi. "Rum" was the conquering Turks' name for the Byzantine empire. It survives in Roumelia, while the popular Greek language of the present day is still known as Romaine. But every Greek, in Greece or in Turkey, calls himself a Hellenic.—London Chronicle.

An Ominous Symptom.

"A good wife is heaven's greatest gift to man and the rarest gem the earth holds," remarked Mr. Jarphly the other morning. "She is his joy, his inspiration and his very soul. Through her he learns to reach the pure and true, and her loving hands lead him softly over the rough places. She is—" "Jeremiah," said Mrs. Jarphly solemnly—"Jeremiah, what wickedness have you been up to now?"

Even Break.

"Well, did your husband succeed in beating the carpet?" "My sportily inclined brother says that the contest was a draw."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Just What Did He Mean?

"Do you remember when you proposed to your wife?" "My boy, I can never forget it."—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Grief is crowned with consolation.—Shakespeare.

TRACED IN FIRE.

Glow Pictures Are Spectacular and Easy to Make.

To make glow pictures forty parts of saltpeter are added to twenty parts of gum arabic, and the whole is dissolved in forty parts of water. An ounce or two of this mixture will be sufficient to prepare a good many pictures. A few sheets of white paper should next be secured, and this should be rather thin, similar to that which is used for typewriting.

Now take a clean pen and draw the picture on the paper, using the solution, which should be slightly warmed by standing the bottle in hot water. Anything may be delineated, the only essential point being that all the lines must connect. The final line should be drawn down to the corner of the sheet, and this spot may be indicated with a pencil cross. Hang the sheets up to dry, and when the process is complete the lines are practically invisible.

To bring up the picture first of all turn down the borders of the sheet of paper in such a way that it is raised above the surface which will not be injured by the slight smoldering of the paper. Get a match and light it, placing the glowing end of the point where the pencil cross was made on the sheet.

A trail of red fire will at once start to burn out the picture, following the lines which have been drawn. No other part of the design catches on fire save that which has been treated with the solution. Finally the picture stands up in strong black lines, and the effect is very curious. There is absolutely no danger from fire in this little experiment.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

INTENSIVE WHEAT GROWING.

Amazing Results Claimed For a Russian's Methods.

Some years ago, says an English publication, a Russian farmer discovered a method of increasing the yield of wheat in so startling a manner that no one believed he was telling the truth. The Russian declared that it was possible to get seventy pounds of grain from one seed and to make an acre carry forty-five tons.

That does sound like a miracle, and we do not vouch for it, but here is the method, and if any farmer has the patience to try it he will certainly be surprised at the result.

Each grain is planted separately in a sunken bed about fifteen inches deep and three and a half feet in width.

As soon as the grain sprouts the little blade is covered with a thin layer of earth about an inch and a half in depth. The result is that you get three stalks instead of one. At the end of three weeks the hoe comes into use again, and the three stalks being covered with earth, turn into nine stalks. This process on being repeated a third time results in twenty-seven stalks, and the Russian in question repeated it ten times in all, so that at last each grain produced 59,049 stalks. If the seed is first sown in the ordinary fashion and then transplanted to the pit before mentioned you get an even stronger growth, so that after only eight coverings more than 105,000 stalks have been produced from a single grain.—Youth's Companion.

Mythical Horses.

Pegasus ("born near the source of the ocean") was the winged horse of Apollo and the Muses. Bellerophon rode this animal when he charged the Chimera.

Sleipnir ("the black horse of Odin") had eight legs and could carry his master on sea as well as land. This animal is believed to typify the wind, which blows from eight different points.

Al Borak ("the lightning") was the horse commissioned by Gabriel to carry Mohammed to the seventh heaven. He had a human face and the wings of an eagle. Every step he took was equal to the farthest range of human vision.

According to Thessalian legend, the first horse was miraculously brought forth by Neptune striking a rock with his trident.

A Voracious Monster.

The most voracious of all marine beasts of prey is the orca, or killer whale. It reaches a length of twenty-five feet, and its jaws bristle with teeth from four to six inches long and as sharp as a dirk knife. Its digestive power is proportioned to the tremendous efficacy of its jaws. It seems also to be an atrocious glutton, as one specimen examined contained in its stomach thirteen porpoises and fourteen seals.

A Boomerang.

"Call that art!" exclaimed a would-be critic, pointing to a painting in a studio. "If that daub is a work of art, then I'm an idiot!"

"The latter part of your statement," rejoined the artist calmly, "would seem to furnish conclusive proof that it is a work of art."

A Lovers' Quarrel.

Drowned His Voice.

MORE CARS ALREADY THAN LAST YEAR

Walter F. Winchester, head of the Winchester Motor Car company, of Jacksonville, was a Daytona visitor today on his way to Leesburg. Mr. Winchester says that already this season more motor parties have arrived in Jacksonville on their way to various points in Florida than arrived in the city altogether last season.

Mr. Winchester drove through from Jacksonville, arriving here late Saturday evening. He says that six cars were mired near Hastings on the uncompleted portion of the brick highway. It seems that the road contractors have encountered quicksand for a space of about 200 yards and have so far been unable to get a foundation to stand. Mr. Winchester loitered on his trip to help pull out the stalled cars. He left this morning on his way to Leesburg.

PRESIDENT EBBETS LEAVES FOR NORTH

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Ebbets, who arrived in Daytona last week and were guests at Schmidt's hotel for a few days, departed Sunday for Atlanta, Ga., enroute to New York. Mr. Ebbets, who is the well known president of the Brooklyn National baseball team, was here to look over the winter training grounds of the club at Seabreeze. He expressed himself as very much pleased with the work that had been done on the grounds and their present fine condition which places them in the front rank with any winter training grounds in the South. Manager Wilbert Robinson will be here on the 10th of February and will be followed on the 18th of the month by the keeper of the grounds.

SHOLTZ ELECTRIC PLANT IMPROVED

The capacity of the Sholtz electric plant on First street has been more than doubled by the installation of the new twin-cylinder engine, which is practically two engines in one and is directly connected with the generator. The first test of the new engine was made Saturday and proved very satisfactory, and it is probable that it will be put into service today. The addition of this engine means a reserve for the plant of over 100 per cent and makes it possible to handle a large volume of business with ease and satisfaction to its patrons.

WELL-KNOWN FLYER HERE FOR SEASON

Ruth Law, the well-known aviatrix, arrived Sunday evening, accompanied by her husband and manager, Charles Oliver, and they are guests at the Geneva hotel, Seabreeze. They came to Daytona from Hammocksport, N. Y., where at the Curtiss plant Miss Law had just had constructed for her a special machine, designed particularly for looping the loop. This machine arrived by express Sunday evening on the same train with Mr. and Mrs. Oliver, and they expect another tomorrow, so that Miss Law will have two machines for the season, during which she will make flights from the Nautilus casino in Seabreeze. Miss Law has been here in several past seasons and is popular because of her careful and expert handling of her machine.

MOVING PICTURES.

Why They Appear to the Eye as One Continuous Photograph.

Motion pictures depend for their successful operation upon the physiological phenomenon known as "persistence of vision." If, for instance, a bright light is moved rapidly in front of the eye in a dark room it appears not as a spark, but as a line of light. A so called shooting star produces the same effect.

This result is purely physiological and is due to the fact that the retina of the eye may be considered practically as a sensitized plate of relatively slow speed, so that an image impressed upon it remains, before being effaced, for a period ranging from one-sixteenth to one-seventh of a second, according to the idiosyncrasies of the individual and the intensity of the light.

So it will be seen that if a number of pictures are successively presented to the eye they will appear as a single continuous photograph, provided the periods between them are short enough to prevent one of the photographs being effaced before its successor is presented to the eye.

If, for instance, a series of identical portraits were rapidly presented to the eye a single picture would apparently be viewed, or if we presented to the eye a series of photographs of moving objects, each one representing a minute successive phase of movement, the movements themselves would appear to be taking place. This is the principle of moving pictures.—New York Times.

SYRIAN SAND STORMS.

Experience of a Missionary in Wrestling With a Whirlwind.

One of the remarkable features of the climate and atmosphere of Syria is the prevalence of whirlwinds and waterspouts, both on land and over the sea. They are most prevalent in the deep trough of the Jordan valley and also in Coela-Syria, where the Lebanon and anti-Lebanon form another trough for the winds. They sometimes do an immense amount of damage and often at most unexpected seasons.

As a touring missionary in northern Syria I often met the whirlwinds. They appear in the shape of a column of dust perhaps two to five feet in diameter, rising straight in the air for several hundred feet, opening like a large funnel at the top. The lower end touches the ground and swings over the surface, picking up dust and pebbles in its path. The chaff and even grain on the thrashing floors are sucked up and disappear. Small fish are sometimes drawn up when the swirling column passes over a stream or lake.

Many years ago I made the experiment of riding through the swirling column of a rather innocent looking whirlwind. My horse was terrified, and I had difficulty in keeping my seat in the saddle. It is impossible to say exactly what did happen. It took me some time to find my hat and several days to get the sand and dust from my eyes and ears and clothing, and I have never made it again.—Christian Herald.

"Hang on Tight."

When a smoking car with thirty-five passengers jumped the track a railroad engineer in the car, off duty, yelled to the passengers to "hang on tight," and while the car turned over no one was hurt.

"Hang on tight" is good advice in most upsets. The man who hangs on tight to himself when his temper is upset will get through without hurting either himself or others. The man who "hangs on tight" to his earnings ends with a competence. The man who "hangs on tight" to his place when business upsets come generally holds down his job. The man who "hangs on tight" when discouragement or even disaster upsets others is a man to be hopeful about, because he will keep right side up whatever else turns over.—Philadelphia Press.

"Faith, ma'am, I couldn't say that," replied the new servant, "for we have a good many, but I don't let my wife know of them, and so we do be gettin' along well."

"TAXPAYER" SHOWS INCONSISTENCY

The Daily News does not wish to enter into any controversy upon the merits or demerits of the act of the Legislature to be voted upon on January 4, especially with "Tax Payer," "E Pluribus Unum," "Nux Vomica," or other real or fictitious person who is ashamed or afraid to sign his name to his communications. We give credit to most people of being sincere in their views on this question and would only ask that the reading public give the articles published by us careful consideration and us credit for thoroughly believing that the statements that we make are true and correct.

We again state that this Act is an amendment and that Mr. Taxpayer in denying this shows clearly that he has either never read more than the title of the Act, or else is attempting to wilfully deceive the public, and we are within our rights in stating that if he will deceive the public in one respect then why not in all? The title of the Act is "An Act to abolish the present municipal government of the City of Daytona and to organize and establish a new form of City Government for the same and to prescribe its jurisdictions, duties and powers." However, we defy anyone to find anywhere in the Act a clause whereby the present city government or any portion of it is abolished, while in section 27 we find that it is expressly stated that "This Act shall not be construed as repealing or modifying any special legislation relating to the city of Daytona and not in conflict with the terms of this Act." We believe that it was the intention of the framers of this bill to abolish the present system, but in this matter, as in others, they have failed so to do, and there is a serious question whether or not the variance of the terms of the Act from its title will not make it unconstitutional.

Again, in discussing the powers of the city commissioners, it is alleged that the present council has as much power in regard to the abolishment and creation of offices and officers as would be given by this Act to the commissioners. This again is absolutely false and shows further bad faith to the public.

The section of the old charter quoted requires that all the Acts of the city council with reference to the creation of offices and officers be done by ordinance and the charter provides how ordinances shall be passed.

The Act to be voted upon on January 4 gives the commissioners "power to establish such subordinate offices as they may see fit, to fix the salaries therefor," but does not require that that shall be done by ordinance and, as a matter of fact, the Act does not provide a method of passing ordinances. There is all the difference in the world between a city council passing an ordinance to create an office, when such ordinance has to be presented after notice and cannot be passed within much less than a month after notice is given, and three men sitting up and by resolution or vote creating all the offices that they may wish, with unlimited powers as to salaries. There is absolutely nothing in the Act requiring the commissioners to proceed by ordinance, although it might have been the intention of the framers to include it, but on January 4 the people will be called upon to vote, not upon what was somebody's intention, but upon this Act, as it was passed by the legislature of the state of Florida, and as it appears in the notice of election.

We would suggest that "Taxpayer" consult an oculist in reference to his failing eyesight or else read our article before attempting to criticize it. Section 3, article (d) of the Act is as follows: "To the department of Public Affairs shall be assigned jurisdiction over the City Clerk, the Police Court, the Legal Department, the City Treasurer, the Auditor, the Assessor and the Bookkeeper." Our comment on this portion of the Act as shown in the last paragraph of the first column is as follows: "We find in article (d) of the same section that certain offices are specified as being under the department of public affairs. These offices, as stated therein, we presume are compulsory upon the commissioners to create and if so we find that three, namely those of auditor, police court and bookkeeper, are new to our present system and the cost of these three offices can be added to the $4,500 salaries of the commissioners as an increase over the present system." Now, please note carefully how Mr. "Taxpayer" comments upon the foregoing and then ask yourself if anything he may state is worthy of credence and whether it is not an insult to the people of Daytona for anyone to so wilfully misrepresent matters so vital to the community: "Doctor Fitts fixes the pay of auditor, clerk and police court at $4,500 and imagines he has caught a whale. O, shades of Don Quixote, your windmills are no longer in it. The new charter does not create an auditor or any other officer than three commissioners." We will make no further comment than to state that a more complete impeachment of the credibility of "Taxpayer" on this question could not be made.

The recall provision of this Act is defective as we have stated before in that it does not state how often a recall election can be held, and "Taxpayer" does not in any way attempt to explain this weakness, therefore we must take it for granted that he admits it.

We take issue with Mr. "Taxpayer" on the method of changing or amending this Act if adopted. We have stated before and we state again that the Farris bill passed at the last legislature provides the only method of amending a municipal charter. For the information of Mr. "Taxpayer," if he has never heard of the bill, we will state that it provides a method of changing municipal charters and repeals all laws in conflict therewith including therein the act of the legislature known as our Charter of 1905 insofar as it is in conflict therewith. We will further state that inasmuch as the Farris act was passed after the Act to be voted upon January 4, it is a serious question whether or not this Act was repealed. The attorney general has given his opinion on this question, but it is merely his opinion, and we know that had the charter bill recently voted upon in Jacksonville been carried instead of being overwhelmingly defeated, it would have been tested in the courts on this very point.

The question is asked, "how it happens that a majority of the city council are opposed to the charter." In answering that, we will state that the mayor and the councilmen have signed a petition to call an election under the Farris act for the election of a charter board, consisting of five qualified voters, who organize and proceed with the preparation of a new charter along such lines as they see are best suited to the needs of the community. Their meetings are all public and they are allowed ninety days in which to complete their work, and at its completion the charter they prepare is submitted to the voters for ratification. A charter of this kind will be prepared calmly, deliberately, publicly and with the needs of the public intelligently in view. If the council are opposed to the Act to be voted upon January 4, it is because they are intelligent men and with the best interests of the city at heart, and are opposed to it because of its many admitted weaknesses and defects. They do not wish to plunge the city into litigation in an effort to construe the contradictory and unmeaning clauses of this bill, realizing as they do, perhaps more than some of their critics, the necessity of having a clear and unambiguous charter to follow. If the council is opposed to this bill, it is because they consider it one that is not for the best interests of the people, and as citizens they have as much right to their views as "Taxpayer." A great deal has been said about mismanagement and graft in city affairs, and Mr. "Taxpayer" waxes sarcastic in his insinuations about the desire of the aldermen to retain their jobs, and we wish at this point to challenge "Taxpayer" or any other one of his kind to point out one specific instance of mismanagement or graft in city affairs. The books are all open and there is a record of every cent that has been taken in or paid out, and we would ask Mr. "Taxpayer" to come out from behind his cowardly nom de plume and make specific charges. There is nothing to conceal on the part of the council. Their doings are all matters of record, and if conditions are as bad as "Taxpayer" and some of his friends would insinuate, then it is their duty to refrain from skulking in the dark like assassins and making cowardly general statements, and come out and tell the people why these councilmen that the people have elected are so vile and wherein they have been guilty of mismanagement and graft. It is the right of the people to know and to be in a position to determine whether their chosen servants have failed in their duties, or whether they have been the subjects of attack by wilful and malicious disgruntled politicians. Come out into the open, Mr. "Taxpayer," as we are very strongly of the opinion that you are not able to vote at any election where a property qualification is required.

The budget question is lightly touched upon by "Taxpayer," and he utterly fails to advise what will be done if the budget is voted down.

We do not object to the budget being submitted to the voters and really think that it might work out nicely, but we are discussing what the city would do if it was voted down. This act absolutely provides no method of creating another budget and specifically states that the budget shall be made up in January.

"Taxpayer" further shows either his

Ignorance of municipal affairs and this bill or another attempt to deceive the people when he states that the expenditure for a team of mules, when such an item was not in the budget, could be made from the general fund. Let us turn to the bill itself in reference to the budget. It says, section 22: "During the month of January in each year the Council shall prepare an itemized budget of the amount of money necessary to meet proposed expenditures for the ensuing year. No item in such budget shall be stated in general terms, such as 'sundries,' 'miscellaneous,' etc., but shall state the exact use for which the expenditure is to made." In again looking at the discussion of "Taxpayer" in regard to this point, we find that he does not exactly state that the mules could be purchased from the general fund, but uses his powers of insinuation to suggest that it would be ridiculous if they could not. In the first place, the general fund is the name given to a portion of taxes after collection to distinguish it from special taxes, collected usually for interest, sinking funds or other special purposes. The budget is made up before the millage is declared and before the taxes are collected and if there is to be a general fund put in the budget—as "Taxpayer" implies—then we fail to see how it differs from "sundries" or "miscellaneous." However, it distinctly provides that these words shall not be used, so there you are.

The people of Daytona are entitled to free and unbiased discussion of the Act that they have been called upon to vote for or against on January 4. Personalities, innuendoes, and insinuations are not arguments, especially when the matter up for discussion is an act of the legislature under which the city of Daytona is to be governed, and which is liable to be taken into the courts for interpretation later. These defects, ambiguities and impossibilities are matters that vitally concern every citizen of Daytona, and if they exist, and we have shown beyond a doubt that they do, then will it not be the height of folly for the people of this city to burden themselves with this charter upon the assurance of a few, that they will be remedied later? Why adopt it at all, when steps are already being taken to secure a charter free from these dangers—a charter created by a charter board chosen by the people; a charter created in the open at public meetings, not a charter drafted in secret by a self-appointed committee and sent to Tallahassee without the knowledge of anyone except that committee; not a charter that its own friends cannot interpret or say when it goes into effect, as this bill provides that it shall become effective upon its ratification, when as a matter of fact it would be impossible to elect commissioners before the election in February.

Riding a Horizontal Cycle.

Going at a speed of from seventy-five to eighty-five miles an hour, a motorcyclist succeeded in driving his machine around the perpendicular wall at the top of a motordrome, says Popular Mechanics. This is a regular amusement park feat for automobiles, but is seldom attempted with a motorcycle, since the machine must be driven at terrific speed and must stand out almost horizontally from the wall. It is a good example of the power of centrifugal force, as well as of the skill and nerve of the driver.

Had Given It.

Here is a good story of a popular English actor. He had gone to give an entertainment at the house of a nouveau riche. There was a dinner on. When he got there, to his amazement, he was shown into the servants' hall to wait. Their dinner was just on the table, so he accepted the butler's invitation and sat down to it with them. After the meal, at which he was particularly bright, he went all through his program for the benefit of his hosts, the servants. He had hardly done when he was summoned to the drawing room, to find the guests there solemnly seated in rows, waiting for him to commence. "Commence," he asked, with the bland smile for which he is noted. "Commence what? My little entertainment? Oh, I see. Very sorry, but—it's over. I gave it, as I always do, where I dined. Good night."

Causes of Strange "Worries."

How many times have you heard people say, "I know something is going to happen." They belong to that class of humans who seem to keep in a chronic state of worryment for which there is no apparent reason. Now, when you hear a person say the above quoted words, make up your mind that the cause is usually not "something that is going to happen," but something that has actually happened, or is happening, in the patient's own system. It may be a badly working liver, or a weak heart, or any of the organs, or, perhaps, some difficulty in the intestinal tract. The disorder may not give direct evidence of its existence, but still be responsible for this apparently causeless worry.

E. N. WALDRON HAS A NARROW ESCAPE

EARLY SETTLER AND WELL KNOWN RESIDENT OF DAYTONA ALMOST ASPHYXIATED BY GAS FROM HEATER.

E. N. Waldron, one of the earliest settlers of Daytona and well known throughout this section, met with an accident Saturday night that nearly cost him his life. Mr. Waldron is a guest at the Magnolia hotel and not being familiar with the gas heating apparatus in his room, it having only recently been installed, he in some manner left the gas turned on when he retired Saturday evening.

At about 7:00 o'clock Sunday morning Henry McLean, the porter of the hotel, noticed the smell of escaping gas coming from Mr. Waldron's room and pulling out the screen from a window that opened upon the porch he entered the room and carried out into the fresh air the insensible form of Mr. Waldron, who fortunately had left the window open.

Miss Lee B. Bowers, of the Magnolia, immediately rendered first aid and worked over Mr. Waldron until Chief W. E. French of the fire department arrived with the pulmotor and was joined a little later by Dr. J. E. Rawlings. After considerable work with the pulmotor Mr. Waldron was revived and by afternoon was reported to be in a very comfortable condition.

W. F. Miller visited his son, C. Roy Miller, and family at Holly Hill from Friday until Sunday evening, when he left for his home in Miami. Mr. Miller was returning from a six weeks' trip north which included a visit with relatives in Chicago, Ill., and Troy, Ohio, and a business trip to New York and Washington, D. C.

JACKSONVILLE T. U. SAYS NICE THINGS ABOUT DAILY NEWS

About the initial edition of the Daily News for the 1915-16 season, the Jacksonville Times-Union said a few days ago:

"The daily edition of the Daytona News, published during the winter season for the past dozen years, is again on the exchange table and the first number, dated December 1, 1915, is the handsomest and best yet. Twenty pages, filled with telegraphic, county and city news, a fine advertising display and plenty of good miscellany, some of the pages showing two colors of ink and every page attractively made up and perfectly printed, the News made a fine impression on its first visit for the season. The Daytona Daily News is an important feature of the winter season in Daytona, Daytona Beach and Seabreeze, and the editors have started in to make it a fine newspaper. Congratulations are offered and good wishes for much success."

The Daily News' staff appreciates the Times-Union's congratulations and good wishes.

PROBLEM PLAY AT THE CRYSTAL TODAY

The Crystal theatre's offering this evening is a feature play entitled "The Blindness of Virtue," in which are vividly but withal wholesomely presented some of the sex problems which vex society in this day of complex civilization.

The following brief synopsis of "The Blindness of Virtue" will give some idea of its character:

The Hon. Archibald Graham is expelled from college and his indignant father sends him to a little English village to study under Rev. Harry Pemberton.

Effie Pemberton is a young girl of seventeen. She has never been told of the fundamental principles of life and has been brought up in absolute innocence and ignorance. She and Archie become fast friends.

Winstanley, a friend of Archie's, comes to the village to visit him. He is a shallow pated youth with no moral principles. He meets Mary Ann, a beautiful girl, the daughter of a washwoman in the village. She longs for pretty clothes and all the gaities she has been denied, and being as innocent of life as Effie, is persuaded by Winstanley to elope to London with him.

Archie follows them with the intention of saving her from his friend. In this he fails. He returns to the village early in the morning. Effie, in her innocence, rushes to his room in her kimono, to tell him how glad she is to see him again. He tries to get her out of the room, but she refuses to go.

The minister bursts into the room and accuses Archie of evil intentions. Mary Ann returns home, a wreck of her former self, and tells the minister her story.

Pemberton and his wife then awake to the fact that girls are more likely to go wrong through innocence than in any other way.

McGregor is tanning it, preparatory to mounting it as a wall ornament.

SAYS MAN WHO SANK LUSITANIA IS INSANE

Paris, Dec. 6.—A. de Schmit, a Dutch newspaper writer who has just made a trip through Germany, says in the Petit Parisien that the commander of the German submarine which sank the Lusitania is now under treatment in a sanitarium at Kiel, having been affected by the open scorn shown him throughout the German navy.

"De Smit says further that the sinking of the Lusitania was disapproved by the navy and approved by the army. The German seamen conceded that the Lusitania sinking, in the opinion of all his fellow officers, was 'a crime, an abominable crime,' and that its perpetrators had already been punished by God.

The German added, according to de Smit, that when the Lusitania sank and the submarine commander saw the men, the women, the little girls and the little boys drowning without help and witnessed their agony and their hands outstretched in vain, it seemed to him that those hands crushed him. Gradually he became insane, dreadful nightmares now haunt his sleep and his victims leave him no rest.

Only bass and trout seemed to have been biting and the party landed and brought home with them 76 fine fish, an exceptionally good catch for so early in the season.
